

Dirty Harry teams with The Godfather to bend the law around Scarface.

The impossible goal of Judd Rayburn, El Paso assistant district attorney, and others, is to win the war against the Colombian/Mexican drug cartels. After a drug bust at the Mexico border goes horribly wrong, Judd and Joe begin to take the law into their own hands.

Enter Rikki Rhine, Navy fighter pilot and first female Top Gun winner, who just happens to be the former college flame of Judd Rayburn. Together Rikki and Judd meet the head of all twenty-three families of the U.S. based La Cosa Nostra, and actually find some common ground. It's all about the money. Billions of dollars are involved in this high-stakes game of power, greed, deception and seemingly unfair justice. Whatever it takes to win.

Secret and forbidden romances abound in this international thriller. The cartel's actions are beyond grievous, they're heinous. The court room drama and unique solution to the problem of drugs in America will astound you. Can a form of Gray Justice legitimize organized crime in America and end the drug problem? And, as a side issue, clean up "The Swamp" in Washington, D.C.?
